Mr. Cooper came to Canyon 18 years ago and has engaged in the grocery business. The firm is Cooper's Market, which was owned by Mr. Cooper and his son, Clay Cooper.

The firm conducted its business for several years on the east side of the square, but recently built a large, modern market at the northeast corner of the square. While Mr. Cooper's health has been such that he has been unable to be active in the business, he has stayed at the store for a greater part of the time until recent weeks.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, conducted by the pastor, Dr. Roy L. Johnson, assisted by Rev. Roy Stevens of McLean.

State Widening Highway 87 To Swisher County

The State Highway Commission is calling for bids to be opened in Austin on June 22 for a contract to widen Highway 87 from the city limits of Canyon to the Swisher county line at Happy.

This work has been under consideration for several months, and many conferences have been held between the District Engineer and Mayor W. A. Warren regarding the project.

The highway will be widened to a three lane construction, according to the plans.

The contract does not call for construction within the city limits of Canyon. The State Highway Department is asking for a four lane highway within the city limits, which would include a new underpass to be constructed by Santa Fe. However, right-of-way problems confront the construction of such a wide highway, and no definite decision has been reached on the project.

Dogs Common Problem Cities Of the Panhandle

Dogs are the common interest of city officials of the Panhandle, according to the mayors who met in Amarillo Monday.

Each and every city has its dog problems.

Mayor Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo told the mayors what a headache that city was experiencing over dogs, stray and family pets alike.

The next general problem was city finances. Practically every city, large and small, was up against financial difficulties, according to Mayor W. A. Warren, who attended the meeting. He was accompanied by City Clerk Dalton Teague.

The mayors expressed the opinion that something must be done to bolster city revenues. Imposing the trash disposal and sewer tax was considered the most likely means of securing added revenues. Mayor Warren states that many Canyon citizens have been advocating such a tax for several years.

Other recommendations discussed were:

Asking the state and federal governments to allow cities to collect amusement taxes.

Asking the state to divide the gasoline and cigarette taxes.

Seeking a law to allow cities to collect car license fees.

Revaluation of all property.

Increasing fines.

Seeking increased occupational taxes.

Allowing cities to collect vending machine taxes.

Since more than half of the population of Texas now lives in the towns and cities of the state, the Texas League of Municipalities will seek legislation from the next session of the legislature to assist local officials with their financial problems.

More Rain in Canyon During the Past Week

Rain during the past week in Canyon measured .60 of an inch. All of the rain came in showers, but following the report of 1.96 inches which fell last week, these showers have been of great benefit.

Rain has been very spotted over the county. So far there has been no general rain in the Panhandle, but all sections have received some moisture.

The showers were divided as follows: Thursday a. m., .05 of an inch; Saturday morning, .45; Monday morning, ,02; Wednesday morning, .08.

Added to last week's rains, the total in Canyon is 2.56 inches.

The total moisture for 1948 is now 8.27 inches.

If there had been sufficient rains last fall to start the wheat crop, there would have been a sufficient amount to get the 1948 crop well underway. But this time most of the volunteer crop which indicates no chance of making has been plowed by the land will either be planted to row crop, or summer fallowed for the 1949 wheat crop.

Members of the Texas State Parks Board held their first meeting in the Panhandle Friday and Saturday, and visited the Palo Duro State Park for the first time as a body. Attending the meeting were: J. V. Ash, chairman of Bastrop; J. D. Sandefer of Breckenridge; E. B. Camiade, board auditor of Austin; Wendell Mayes of Brownwood; Gordon Shearer, executive secretary of Austin; Raymond Dillard of Mexia. The only board member unable to attend the meeting was T. E. Ashfork of Maude.

State Representative and Mrs. Blake Timmons of Austin joined the group here.

P. P. Patrow of Santa Fe, National Park representative, and Ross A. Maxwell of the Big Bend National Park, were here for the meeting.

Representatives from Canyon who met with the Board were L. S. Johnston, M. E. Cantrell, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, Herschel Coffee, W. H. Hamblen, Clyde Warwick. J. B. Elliston and Urlin Steu of Hereford joined the delegation.

A breakfast was served for the visitors in Amarillo, while a steak fry was served at the lodge at noon.

A large number of interested Amarillo citizens joined the Park Board in its inspection tour of the Park.

Mr. Timmons has requested an appropriation for the Palo Duro of $250,000 and secured a meeting with the State Highway Commission for a Panhandle delegation to take the road matter before thae body in Austin this week.

All of the visitors pledged their support to the Palo Duro, following the agreement on the bond issue which was authorized last year. Up to that time the board felt that it could do nothing due to the heavy debt against the property.

The following recommendations were made in order to improve the Palo Duro State Park:

Get roads in park as good as possible. Pave as much as can as fast as can.

Improve Lodge and get good food operator with experience.

Build more overnight cabins on rim and at Cow Camp for tourist business. Put up a windmill for atmosphere and to water horses at Cow Camp.

Improve sanitary sewer system as soon as can.

Put in golf putting course near lodge or in canyon as is found most advantageous.

Put in several horse shoe pitching standard courts. Horseshoes kept by keeper and rented out or require a deposit for safe return etc. as found best.

Build one or two good croquet courts for rental fee or as found best.

Add more games to keep tourists busy and give them added pleasures as fast as they can be added.

Children's playground equal to public parks and school ground.

Soft ball diamond to be built for practice and also it might be interesting to have a soft ball diamond for regular contest games as a drawing card to the Park over week-ends and holidays.

Build rodeo chutes etc. so that rodeo calf roping and goat roping can be easily staged. Probably this would draw a crowd weekly during summers at least. Many amateurs would go week-ends if these were in a convenient place. Tourists would gather even for amateur calf roping etc.

The big need is added attractions for tourists to see and participate in —after or before seeing the Canyon or hiking through the Canyon.

Police picnic units to keep them clean at all times. No fires except at Picnic Units and designated places.

More signs on highways.

More good well designed signs in the Park Area.

Bridges should be planned and built so high water will not interfere with visitors to the Park.

Editorials

The Newsman was privileged to sit in on a meeting the other night of the trustees of the Canyon Independent School District with the trustees of districts which are sending their children to Canyon. Since we were a member of the school board 25 years ago when the system was started on its expansion program, we were greatly interested in the opinions which were expressed. First of all, there was a sense of harmony among the trustees. All of the members present knew that they had a problem to solve, and were trying to seek the best way to solve this problem. There may be a difference of opinion as to that best way, but in the end, we are certain that wisdom will prevail. The Canyon school is doing its best to make the system here the very best, and give the children of the sending districts the best possible educational system. Conditions, educationally, have changed in recent years, just as they have changed on the farms and ranches, and in business circles of the community. The things that were true a few years ago are no longer true. Educational costs have skyrocketed, the same as farm prices and the prices of every other commodity. We sensed that every trustee who attended the meeting knew that these conditions prevailed. When the trustees met, the Canyon schools seemed to face a loss of approximately $10,000 on tuition from the sending districts. At least that was the way the books read. When the situation was outlined, it was evident that the sending districts are setting about to pay off this debt, and to face the future with the determination as to the best way to handle future problems. The Newsman is no prophet, and is not posing as a superman as to the best way out. Trustees and citizens of the Canyon district and the sending districts will have the hearty approval of the people of the county as they set about trying to solve the present and future problems of the schools. One thing is sure and certain: The only permanent asset that any man or woman may leave his child is a good education. Uncle Sam is going to see to it that the family leaves little else. Therefore, to make the best provision for the future is the aim of the families of Randall county as they look toward the future and seek the best method of taking care of this urgent problem.

Lyndon Johnson came to the Panhandle last week and made three speeches in his race for the United States Senate. Those who heard him were disappointed. During the Roosevelt administration he was an ardent new dealer; now he is trying to staddle the fence. This is making the new dealers suspicious of his past motives. They wonder whether or not Johnson was sincere in riding the new deal band wagon while it was popular. Without doubt he is attempting to lure anti-new dealers into his camp. So far as Johnson personally is concerned, he has the advantage of youth on his side. George Peddy was a candidate 25 years ago, but has no political background. Coke Stevenson is 61 years old, with a long record in Texas politics, but none in Washington. Johnson can point to his youth, 39 years, and his 12 years in Washington. But his fence riding program of the past may be the determining factor in the campaign.

We heard with amazement a few days ago that by the end of 10 years the nation will have a shortage of 60,000 teachers in the nation. Why? The public is unwilling to pay teachers in comparison to the big wages which are paid by business and industry. The solution? Better pay for teachers, which means more money out of the pockets of the taxpayers. There is no Santa Claus in this education business.

Harold Stassen has been going too strong to suit the brass hats of the Republican party. Therefore the brakes have been put on his campaign. GOP does not want a progressive candidate like Stassen, who has too many ideas which coincide with those of President Truman. Great stuff, this political game.

We feel genuinely sorry for President Truman. He may be dubbed: The man who became President in spite of his desires, but who now wants to continue with the job. Frankly we are of the opinion that Truman is the victim of circumstances over which he has no control. He is caught much in the same jam as Herbert Hoover when the people discredited him at the pools. Hoover was not to blame for the disastrous times of his administration any more than Truman is personally to blame for what has been happening. Truman inherited a new deal administration. He had no other choice than to try to carry forward the policies of the long Roosevelt administration. He was not to blame because of the revolt of the voters which took the control of Congress out of his hands. Truman is fighting for his political life. Truman has the unhappy faculty of popping off on important questions without serious consideration. He has been altogether too frank to be a good politician. His advocacy of the so-called social reforms are perhaps not his own ideas. He thought he had to do something to head off the Wallace campaign, so adopted this program. Regardless of what we think about it, his program will eventually be the law of the land. The courts are beating the lawmakers to the punch, and it will be only a matter of time before the entire social program will be adopted. The Southern revolt against the President may stimulate the South to break away from the Democratic party, but we doubt it very, very much. We are looking for the renomination of President Truman in July by the Democratic party. Whether he will be able to weather the political storm of November is another question.

What are we going to do about the serious charges being made against careless youth of the community, who are tearing up cars with nothing in mind but thrills? Frankly, we do not know. It was reported to the News the other day during the rain that cars were being raced over the public school grounds in the west part of town, the drivers cutting the figure "eight" in the mud, and bulldogging each other in the soft ground. The play grounds have no grass, and following long rains there is a considerable amount of mud. The kids had a big time running cars through the mud. Perhaps it will be a blessing to the state and nation when all of the old cars which are used by these kids are smashed up, and the drivers are no longer able to secure new ones. Unfortunately all of the cars used are neither old ones nor wrecks. Probably some of them will be wrecks before many more weeks.

The Newsman has been impressed in recent months by the number of fine citizens who are going to their reward beyond this earthly home. When we came here 38 years ago this was a young man's country. The people have been growing older as the years rolled by. Perhaps it is not a pleasant thing to contemplate, and perhaps we should not mention it, but we are growing older with the country and with the fine citizens with whom we labored in this community building program only a few short years ago. We have had a great group of splendid citizens who have given much to the upbuilding of their community during that period. While younger men and women are stepping in to take over the active responsibilities of the present, yet we are missing, sadly missing, those who have laid the groundwork, and have done such a great job in placing a solid foundation under this community of which we are all so proud.

The political boys like to take jabs at Coke Stevenson, and try to discredit him with the voters because of his habit of calculating before he acts. Fortunately for the people of Texas Calculating Coke has been sound in the conclusions which he reached. They are now pointing to his age as a handicap. Having observed Coke Stevenson for many years, and having observed his personal and political habits we are of the opinion that he will last much longer with good health and the ability of clear thinking than the boys who have been flitting from one political blossom to another in the vain attempt to be on the right side at all times. When Coke Calculates, he reaches a sound conclusion, one that the people will approve.

Three brotherhoods want the government to take over the railroads. Well, we have seen how the government runs private enterprise. And the American people want no more such operations. Just how the brotherhoods would profit by government operation is not clear. Of course they think that they can bluff the government whereas they cannot bluff private owners. If those birds want to work for the government, why not go to Europe where the government runs many branches of industry?

Martin Dies thinks that he hears the call of the Democratic party of Texas to lead it from the wilderness of political uncertainty. Dies will be disappointed. His own district would have discredited him at the polls had Dies continued as a candidate for re-election two years ago. Why should the Democrats of Texas make the mistake of electing a discredited Congressman to the important post of U. S. Senator?

Comrade Joe has failed to bolster up the campaign of Comrade Henry. The war scare has fizzled out, but it was enough to set this nation on its way to preparing for defense. We are not interested in carrying war to any nation, so long as that nation shows a willingness to be decent with its neighbors.

John Snyder, Treasury Secretary, is the one who is signaling the shift of White House emphasis away from policies aimed at deflation to acceptance of the idea of inflation to run at least until after votes are cast in November. Mr. Snyder gave the cue when he went out of his way to let it be known that interest rates on Government securities will be kept low. Earlier a tip had been given that an increase would be needed in bank loans to finance the defense boom.

Thomas McCabe's Federal Reserve Board is not resisting the Treasury decision to continue a policy of cheap money in the midst of a growing boom. Marriner Eccles, former Chairman, was let out by Mr. Truman for fear that he might gum up plans to keep money free and easy at least until after election.

Democratic leaders in the Senate still are complaining that Mr. Truman, who once was one of their number, maintains almost no personal contact with them. The President, 10 weeks ago, met with a group of Senate Democrats for the first time in months and has had next to no contact since.

Wampum was a shell used by North American Indians for money.

Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, will give way to a diplomat if and when U. S. gets down to the business of trying to find a basis for dealing with the Russians. General Smith's experience in diplomacy has been confined largely to an effort to get tough with the Russian diplomats. The result was a period of competition in seeing who could be tougher.

Senator Joseph O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, is Mr. Truman's first choice for a 1948 running mate, although Senator Scott Lucas, of Illinois, and Senator Millard Tydings, of Maryland, still are near the top of the list of possible choices.

George Marshall, Secretary of State, together with top officials in his Department, continues in a state of jitters over Russia. That accounts for a State Department call routing newspaper men out after 9 at night for a special press conference to tell them that a Russian woman had seduced an American sergeant.

U. S. generals and admirals are being assured that they still will get most of the dollars they want for more men and new equipment even if this country does shift its diplomatic emphasis from war to peace.

Whatever its birth date... your car will live a longer life if you regularly drain out old oil and OIL-PLATE with Conoco N*th*.

And here's the reason why. The moment N*th* Motor Oil (Patented) enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and all working parts are literally OIL-PLATED!

This protective OIL-PLATING stays right up there . . . won't all drain down to the crankcase, even with your engine idle over night! That's why N*th* Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts . . . from metal-eating combustion acids . . . from sludge and carbon due to wear!

So, for full-time protection . . . for more miles per quart, make a date now . . .

Vending Machine Business Zooms

Guest Just at Mealtime? Novel Slot Device Will Feed Him.

NEW YORK.—Within four years the coin machine industry will soar to an annual volume of two billion dollars, in the opinion of Robert Z. Greene, president of National Automatic Merchandising association.

With the aid of vending machines, he said, employed women will be able to do their laundry during the lunch hour and housewives can pick up emergency groceries without leaving their apartment building.

Other details included in Greene's predictions:

By 1952 there will be 2,300,000 coin-operated merchandising machines throughout the United States.

Daily sales of 10 cents a machine for penny and service devices, $1 for candy, $2.50 for carbonated beverages and $4 for cigarettes will account for a combined volume of $1,500,000,000.

Additional sales from devices such as vendors of stamps, coffee, milk, ice cream, sandwiches, insurance, and groceries "will bring the total sales from automatic merchandising to well over two billion dollars before 1952."

Groceries in Apartments.

Greene foresaw automatic merchandising in the grocery field as ultimately reaching an annual volume of 100 million dollars through installation of machines in apartment buildings.

"Most of these sales," he said, "would be plus sales that otherwise would not be made. Now if a housewife finds herself out of beans or rice when preparing dinner, she isn't apt to make a special trip to the grocery, but will do without it.

"Most items sold through vending machines are impulse sales that otherwise would be lost forever," and the proper location of the machine can give that impulse a profitable outlet.

Automatic merchandising some day will "bring to retail distribution the same advantages the machine age has brought to manufacturing and agriculture," Greene continued.

Forms Store Front.

He said a machine now on the drawing board will be able to form part of the store front at night, thus achieving late-hour operation and customer convenience without high costs.

"In England (prior to the war) there were over 200,000 cigarette machines that were rolled out in front of stores after the closing hour of tobacco shops.

"And today in Holland, Denmark, and Switzerland, where the food shortage is not as extreme, a variety of merchandise is sold in this manner," he said.

Turning back to the U. S., Greene concluded, "The war taught employers the value of vending machines in keeping employees on the job and increasing their efficiency.

"Even coin-operated washing machines are now used in some large plants to cut down absenteeism. Women employees can now bring their wash with them on Monday and do it during their lunch hour instead of staying home."

Bandit Is Just a 'Crumb'; Waitress Proves Her Point

DETROIT. — Mrs. Imogene Corretta, 38, waitress in a local restaurant, brushed off a would-be bandit as she might have flicked a bread crumb off the counter, holdup squad officers said.

A man strode into the restaurant, right hand threateningly in his overcoat pocket in the approved manner. He announced boldly, "This is a stickup."

Mrs. Corretta pretended not to hear him.

"Open the cash register," the desperado blustered.

Mrs. Corretta ignored him.

The "bandit" reached across the counter and started to open the till himself.

Mrs. Corretta calmly rapped him across the back of his hand with the dull edge of a large butcher knife and the toughie yelped and fled.

British May Trim House Of Lords by 600 Peers

LONDON. — Conservative party sources said about 600 British peers would lose their hereditary seats in the House of Lords under reform proposals considered by Conservative leaders as counter to the Labor government's plan to curb the upper chamber's powers.

A committee of Conservative peers is considering a proposal to limit membership to about 300 lords with outstanding public service records.

Watchdog Quits Hotel Job To Join Marauding Deer

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF. — The manager of the Arrowhead Hot Springs resort, bought Fearless, a tough watchdog, to scare away the wild deer from the nearby hills.

Fearless lived up to his name the first two days, performing as ordered. Then he decided to play too — joining the deer in drinking from the hotel's swimming pool and digging up the carrots in the garden.

TVA Seeking To Extend Control Over Southeast

In an article which was published nearly three years ago, David E. Lilienthal, then chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said: "Those who control energy, control people."

That is a concise and accurate statement of a fundamental truth. And the TVA is a living example of it in practice. TVA has a power monopoly in its region—a monopoly which is gained under the camouflage of flood control, reclamation recreation, and other such services. Therefore, TVA which is an economic principality not subject to regulation by any public body, can completely control and direct the industrial, agricultural and social development of the Southeast. Whether it does a poor job or a good one is beside the point. The point is that when we establish this kind of a super-government, and it is being done in all parts of the country under the present Federal program of government ownership of electric power, we surrender basic rights and liberties on which this country was founded.

Now TVA wants to start construction of a $54,000,000 steam plant—a proposal which has been blocked for the time being by Congress. That proposal had the merit of destroying the last vestiges of TVA's flood control propaganda—such a steam plant produces electricity for commercial purposes only. Thus, TVA clearly intends to cement its position as the economic dictator of the region if it can, and carry state socialism another step toward the logical conclusion — government monopoly.

No private utility can gain this kind of control over the destinies of whole states. Power regulatory authorities, whose duty is the protection of the public interest, see to that. Only one government can create monopolies, and those monopolies in turn, can dicate to you and everyone else and there's nothing you can do about it.

Remember Mr. Lilienthal's phrase: "Those who control energy, control people."

Run-down Homes Are Making Fire Traps in Nation

The housing shortage has forced many people to move into temporary dwellings, where wiring, heating units and cooking equipment are freqently makeshift and unsafe. And that, in turn, has created a new and very grave menace to life from fire. As a tragic example, a woman in a Washington town recently left her infant children in a temporary shelter while returning a borrowed utensil to a neighbor next door. She returned home to find the house in flames and the children dead.

It will be a good many years before the housing shortage is eliminated. In the meantime, the problem of reducing the hazard in substandard structures is two-fold. The first phase must be a constant vigilance on the part of the families living in them. Everything must be done to make electric and heating equipment as safe as possible—and it should be done by a qualified mechanic, not an amateur handyman. Children should never be left without adult supervision. And some sort of approved fire extinguisher should be available for instant use.

Second, it is the duty of municipal authorities to constantly inspect dwellings, particularly those which are of a temporary nature, and enforce adequate safety codes. This will cause hardships—but no hardship is as serious as death by fire.

The hazard of fire can be serious even in well-built, well-maintained homes. It is critical in old run-down dwellings, or new "cardboard houses."

Warren Austin, U.S. delegate to the United Nations, almost did resign when he was given only five minutes warning, in a telephone conversation, before U.S. extended official recognition to the new state of Israel. U.S. diplomatic planners moved in great secrecy to be sure to get a jump on the Russians.

The housing shortage seems to be a case of promises instead of premises.

Lewis Douglas, U.S. Ambassador to London, was in the midst of discusions with the British over the basis of a truce in Palestine when President Truman let drop the hint that U.S. was getting set to make a $100,000,000 loan and to sell arms to Israel. Mr. Douglas is getting accustomed to finding himself out on a limb due to shifts in policy at home. He got caught far off base when the U.S. made its peace gesture to Russia.

Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, is advocating that Britain try to go her own way on foreign policy after finding that U.S. doesn't stay put long on any particular policy once that policy is supposed to be fixed. Mr. Bevin, however, is restrained by Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, who finds it imperitive not to dry up the source of dollars.

Senator Scott Lucas, of Illinois, for the moment at least, is at the top of the list of possible vice-presidential nominees to run with Truman. Senators Joseph O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, and Millard Tydings, or Maryland, as well as Representatives John McCormack, of Massachusetts, also are on the list.

It seems that the only thing the communistic and socialistic countries like about our capitalistic country is its capital.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

What age does a person have to be before he is considered "old"?

Anyone who is 10 years older than you are.

When I was on the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the lady who was bookkeeper had a birthday. A girl who worked in the classified advertising department said, "So today is your birthday! I hope I'm as well preserved as you are when I'm 35."

My mother's favorite story was about a woman who wouldn't tell her age. It was her boast that she had kept it a secret since she was 20. A man said "But someday you'll accidentally reveal it." "No," the woman replied, "when a woman has kept a secret for 18 years, she'll never reveal it."

And my mother used to tell about a farm wife up in the hills of Arkansas. Every fall at harvest time, the men took turns in helping each other with their crops. And when they came to this particular farm, just as they sat down for dinner, (the noon meal, of course, before they'd had time to take a single bite, the farm wife said, "Well! I believe we'll have enough left for supper!"

In a San Antonio jewelry store window is a clock and a sign says you don't have to wind it nor is it electrically run. It is wound just by the change of pressure in the atmosphere. That's what the sign said.

Mark Twain declared that the first time he saw St. Louis, he could have bought the place for only $6,000,000 and it was the big mistake of his life that he didn't do it.

Wages and Hours Are A Problem Various States

A spokesman for a retail association, testifying before a Senate Committee which has been considering proposed changes in the Federal wage and hour law, made some very sound observations. He pointed out that retailing, whether carried on by large or small stores, is essentially intra-state and local in character and, where circumstances make wage and hour regulation desirable, it should be administered by the states. Going on, he said that retailing must be immediately responsive to the desires of the buying public, and that Congress cannot control the whims and wishes of millions of individual consumers. Those wishes are the reason for the many variations in working hours which stores in different communities must observe.

A wage and hour law which established too high a minimum of pay, or a too-short work week, or which was arbitrary and inflexible, could be a very serious problem to thousands of stores. On top of that, it could hurt the people it is supposed to protect by reducing opportunities for employment, especially among those without skills. And, lastly, it could give price inflation still another boost.

What is true of retailing is true of many other kinds of enterprise to some degree. It is one thing to prevent exploitation of the least experienced and least competent worker. It is a different thing to use the wage and hour law to throw the economy out of balance. And it is certainly true that regulation by the states, in most instances, will provide a far more realistic and workable policy than blanket regulation from Washington.

Nice thing about the U. S. is that the loser in the election is not thereafter branded an "enemy of the people."

At what age should you begin to save ?

PAYMASTER
BOND-A-MONTH
TELLER

If you're still just thinking about starting a security program, this may well be the most important message you read this year.

Because no matter how old you are, or aren't—you simply can't afford not to save. To provide for your future security . . . to cushion any financial setbacks along the way.

Two wonderful plans for buying U. S. Savings Bonds offer you an all-automatic, trouble-free way to build your security program during America's Security Loan Drive:

1. One is the only installment-buying Plan—Payroll Savings. It's the Plan for you, if you work for wages or a salary.
2. If the Payroll Savings Plan is not available to you, then sign up at your bank for the Bond-A-Month Plan. It's especially designed for men and women in business or a profession, and for farmers.

Each plan ensures your regular purchase of absolutely safe, U. S. Government-backed Savings Bonds.

Remember—U. S. Savings Bonds make more money for you while you save. They pay you back $4 for every $3 you put into them, after only ten years.

And your Security Bond dollars do more than give you security. They do their part in stabilizing our economy. Every dollar you invest in Bonds retires an equal amount in inflationary credit. Also wise saving means more sensible spending —fewer dollars to bid up prices on scarce goods.

So join the Plan you're eligible for TODAY! If you do—you're starting to save at the RIGHT TIME!

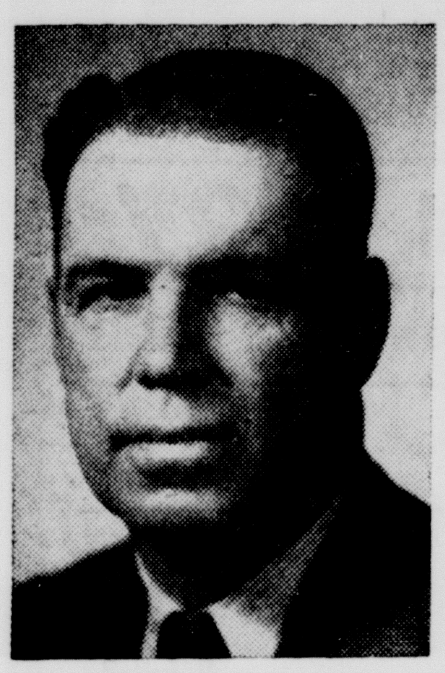
CHAS. A. DUVAL

LEE W. McLAURY



C. I. (Stoney) WALL

HERMAN F. HEATH

R. F. Hinchey, Lubbock, president of West Texas Gas Company, has announced several promotions within his organization.

Chas. A. Duval, heretofore manager of the company's Canyon District, including Canyon and Happy, has been promoted to be manager of the Littlefield District, comprising Littlefield, Levelland, Anton, Amhurst, Sudan and Muleshoe. Duval has been at Canyon the last time since April 1943 and was here as district superintendent a few months in 1937 and 1938. He served as manager at Post from April 1938 to February 1939 and was then manager at Levelland until April 1, 1943. He has been active in the Canyon Rotary Club. Duval is married and has two sons, Charles Jr., 8, and Tommy, 3½. The family will probably move to Littlefield in June.

L. W. McLaury of Canyon succeeds Duval as manager of the Canyon District. McLaury holds a BS degree from West Texas State College, where he won some fame as a quarterback on the football team. He is married and has two daughters; Mary, 11, and Carolyn 7. He started to work for West Texas Gas Company in January, 1941 as superintendent of Canyon District. On October 1, 1942 he was transferred to Red River Gas Company, an affilated company, and served as a meterman in the gas field near Fritch. He served in the U. S. Marine Corps from March 1944 until about May 1946 and attained the grade of Second Lieutenant. He has been back in Canyon since his return from service, as an employee of West Texas Gas Company's transmission department.

C. I. (Stoney) Wall of Lubbock, has been named vice president in charge of operations, to have general supervision over all company properties including pipe lines and compressor stations. Former vice-president and assistant general manager, he has been serving also as superintendent of city plants. He started with the company in June 1927 as a bookkeeper, and through the application of much hard work and enthusiasm worked his way by successive stages up through the ranks to his present responsible position. He brings a wealth of experience in the natural gas business to his new job.

Herman F. Heath, heretofore manager of the Midland District, has been promoted to be superintendent of city plants, with headquarters in the Lubbock general office. He will have direct supervision of the 44 distributing plants. A long-time employee, Heath entered the service of the company in October, 1928 as a clerk in the Lubbock office. He was manager of the Brownfield District from 1930 to 1945, and has since been at Midland. He has handled his work to the complete satisfaction of the company and its customers, and is well qualified to handle his new assignment.

Succeeding Heath as manager of the Midland District is R. W. Lewis, formerly manager of the Littlefield District.

Britain's Ernest Bevin and France's Georges Bidault are concerned lest peace gestures by U. S. and by Russia take the wind out of Western Europe's plans to develop a unified defense front against the Soviet. Russia's Stalin may expect to reap rewards by speaking softly at this time.

John J. McCloy, World Bank president, soon may find himself heading a third-string lending institution. Bank officials expect borrowers to apply to ECA or Export-Import Bank before the World Bank is considered.

Generalissimo Franco, dictator of Spain, is breathing easier as a result of a new line of credit set up for him by his friend, President Peron of Argentina. Franco now is in position to make U. S. and other Western powers bid higher if they want air bases in Spain, or agree to include Spain in the European-aid program.

Roger Q. Evans Is Candidate Governor Opposing Jester

Roger Q. Evans of Denison announced Saturday as a candidate for governor. He is among several who will oppose Governor Jester for a second term.

Evans is running at State Commander of V.F.W. He advocates a state bonus for veterans of both World Wars I and II.

He fought the College Building Constitutional amendment which was passed last August, both as a member of the legislature and during the campaign.

He is lavish in his demands for state expenditure of public funds.

No Starvation Has Ever Been Threat America

The history of the world, since recorded time began, has been blackened at regular and frequent intervals by terrible famines. Countless millions have died miserably from hunger. And those cataclysms were not confined to long past, primitive times. In the last quarter century starvation has stalked through China, Russia and other nations.

Yet, in the United States, we have never had a famine. Some may say short-sightedly that this is because we are blessed with an abundance of resources. But other countries where the standard of living is abysmally low compared with ours, have great resources also. Some may think it is because we work harder. Yet in the hunger-ridden nations the average man and woman work much longer hours, and perform a great deal more manual labor, than does the average American.

The basic reason for our abundance lies elsewhere. It has been in a theory of government that encourages every man to do his utmost and reap the rewards that has stimulated coluntary, individual enterprise and that, finally, has given every man the right to compete with any other in his chosen field.

We see how this system works on every hand. As a simple example, every American can walk into a store and buy all the meat he wants—something that is impossible in most other countries. Free enterprise is responsible for putting that meat in the butcher's showcase—for turning steers, hogs and other animals into cuts that are ready for consumption. To meet the needs of the country, a great packing industry has been developed to bridge the gap between the livestock producer and our homes. It performs a vital service at a cost which is almost unbelievably small.

So it goes, in every field of enterprise. Free people, working in a free economy, have made the American standard of living the envy of the world.

Amelia Ann Wofford-Herman Bogan Rites Read in Plainview Saturday

In a single ring ceremony Amelia Anne Wofford, daughter of Mrs. C. D. Wofford, Sr., and the late Dr. C. D. Wofford, became the bride of Herman Keith Bogan, son of Mrs. J. A. Bogan of Greenville and the late Mr. Bogan, Saturday evening, May 29, at the First Methodist church in Plainview.

Rev. W. E. Peterson read the ceremony before a background of huckleberry and fern centered with calla lilies and white gladiolas flanked by white taper in candelabra. The chancel was draped with greenery with clusters of white flowers centered with candles across the rail. The aisle pews were marked with cathedral tapers and white satin ribbon.

Miss Keith Gamble of Washington, D.C., attended the bride as maid-of-honor. She wore a petal pink net dress over taffeta fashioned with drop shoulders, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her hat was a halo of double ruching of the net trimmed with clusters of fresh flowers on either side. Completing the ensemble were pink taffeta mits ruffled with the net. Her bouquet was of asters in shades of purple and muave centered with a pink rose.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. C. D. Wofford, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Jo Hal Wofford, cousin of the bride. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid-of-honor. They wore double strands of pearls, a gift from the bride.

Medford Thompson of Greenville was best man. Ushers were Tom Burrus of San Antonio, Burt Jones of Plainview, Dr. W. Don West of Dallas and Frank Bowdle of Wichita Falls.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wofford chose a pearl grey sheer crepe. Her accessories were orchid and navy. Mrs. Bogan, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue dress. Her accessories were blue and white.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Dr. C. D. Wofford, was gowned in a dress of French net with a drop yoke outlined by a bertha of petal scalloped net. The long fitted sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The full skirt, gathered on to a fitted bodice, swept into a train.

For a wedding trip the bride chose a traveling suit of aqua with natural and navy accessories. The couple will be at home in Austin after June 6.

Mrs. Bogan was graduated from West Texas high school and attended West Texas State where she was a member of Gamma Phi sorority and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She received her degree from the University of Texas. Mr. Bogan was graduated from Greenville high school and attended East Texas State College at Commerce. He is now a student at the University of Texas, where he is a member of Sigma Chi.

Guests who attended from Canyon were Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Miss Edna Graham, Mrs. Agnes Smith, Mrs. Ardis Stamper, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sternenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sternenberg.

Twenty-six members and two guests, Mrs. Bill Smith and Mrs. Brewer, mother of Mrs. Lee Foster, attended the luncheon. This was the last meeting of a delightful club year.

Typhoid Fever Is Hitch-hiking Disease Germ

A warning against the hitch-hiking germ of typhoid fever has just been issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. They must catch a ride from an infected person to the well person; this is generally accomplished by water, milk, flies, fingers or food. Every case is contracted by way of the mouth and digestive system.

A carrier is a person who has had typhoid fever at some time and who even after recovery carries the germs of the disease in the urine and discharge of the bowels. Carriers who are careless in their personal habits are likely to infect any food they handle with unwashed hands. Some of the most serious and far-reaching outbreaks of the disease have been caused by drinking milk or eating foods that have been handled by carriers. Persons may be carriers without knowing it.

Typhoid fever is unnecessary and preventable. Every case is due either to community negligence or to the ignorance or carelessness of some individual. Persons planning a vacation or trip where sanitation may not be rigidly enforced should protect themselves against this disease by being vaccinated. Inoculation with typhoid vaccine, a week apart, is all that is necessary to secure protection against this disease for two years. The purity of water, milk, or food cannot be judged by looking at it so the best thing to do is to play safe and have your physician protect you.

The textile industry is getting ready to use many spinning and weaving improvements held back during the postwar sellers' market. Use of new looms, stepped up to 220 picks a minute (as against 150 formerly) will be made possible by smoother running yarns and fabric finishes.

Federal Government Costs Much Larger Than Local Units

According to a tax survey just completed on the cost of government in all sttaes, it is found that the federal and local units collects $39,669,000,000 annually.

Local units collect $5,798,000,000. This makes the average cost of federal government 7 times that of local government.

In Texas the cost of federal units are 5 1-3 that of local government units.

Marcella Blue Becomes Bride of Wm Bradly in Candlelight Service

Miss Marcella Blue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue of Dawn, became the bride of William L. Bradly, son of Mrs. Dyalthia Bradly, in a beautiful home ceremony, Wednesday evening, May 26, at 6:30 o'clock.

The couple repeated the vows before an improvised altar banked with greenery, white peonies and pink roses. Lighting was by cathedral tapers in seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Ellis Coombes played "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" while John and Zay Gilbreath, cousins of the bridegroom, lighted the candles then accompanied Mrs. Sam Jolly of Amarillo, sister of the bride, who sang "Through the Years" and "Because." "Indian Love Call" was played as an interlude before the wedding march from Lohengrin.

Mrs. Jolly was her sister's matron of honor and Charles Frye was best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of sheer white with basque neckline and full length skirt. A wide ruffle edged the sweetheart neckline and extended over the shoulders to form cap sleeves and yoke effect in the back. Double layers of tulle formed the shoulder length veil and a small bouquet of orange blossoms and white daisies held the veil in place. Her only ornament was a golden necklace worn by her mother and sister at their weddings.

She carried a colonial nosegay of orange blossoms and white rosebuds showered with white rosebuds tied into white satin streamers. Her traveling dress was a pink linen suit with white accessories.

At a reception following the wedding Rosemary Phillips served punch and Mrs. J. C. Gilbreath of Dimmitt, aunt of the bridegroom, served the cake.

The couple left for a short wedding trip after which both will be enrolled as students at West Texas State for the summer session. Both are graduates of Hereford high school.

Depleted Ore Mines Viewed as Arsenal

Deep Tunnels Are Safe From Bombs in Atomic War.

JOPLIN, MO.—With the lead and zinc ore reserves badly depleted by all-out production in World War II, this vast mining field in the corners of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma thinks in terms of becoming a huge, subterranean arsenal when hearing talk about an atomic war.

The district has miles and miles of man-made underground caverns suitable for munitions works and storage. This, coupled with the fact that the district is near the center of the United States, makes atomic warfare conversation perhaps less frightening than almost any place else in the country.

The idea that the district could be used for defense production and storage has been stimulated by recent visits of military procurement men who have talked with manufacturers and business men on this subject.

Tunnels—"drifts," the miners call them—large enough to accommodate whole munition works are available. Many are scientifically ventilated and electrically lighted. Pumps can keep them dry. They are reached by perpendicular mine shafts. They exist at depths ranging from 50 to 300 feet.

Scores of mines, already 30 to 40 years old, worked at top speed on thin ore percentages during the recent war and under the stimulation of federal subsidies.

In July, 1947, the subsidies were withdrawn. Many of the big marginal mines closed. Others are preparing to close. About 50 per cent of the field now is idle, but the underground of the entire region is literally cut to pieces by mine drifts.

A problem of preserving the field for future subterranean development would be keeping the drifts from filling up with water should mine operations be suspended completely. Once the underground became water filled, the cost of "dewatering" would be terrific.

Tests Show Male Drivers 'Far Better' Than Women

PHILADELPHIA. — Franklin institute tested the driving ability and judgment of 3,002 motorists and drew a conclusion—men are better drivers than women.

The institute reported about 750 of those who took the tests failed to make a passing score.

The scores of men showed "far better" than those turned in by women and "the youngsters made the worst showing," the institute said.

Buyers' Strike Hitting Canadian Food Markets

OTTAWA, CANADA.—Fresh vegetables virtually have disappeared from Canadian markets and the high prices of the few still available, together with the leaping costs of other foods, are bringing protests to the government.

The Ottawa Consumers association asked Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King for an immediate plebiscite on restoration of price controls. Mrs. Joan Frazer, secretary, said an unofficial buyers' strike is in progress.

Prices took a sharp jump upward after Canada's conclusion of new food contracts with the United Kingdom at substantially higher prices for export beef, bacon, cheese and eggs. The scarcity of fresh vegetables, once imported from the United States, gave food costs an added boost.

Ekes Out Meager Livelihood To Preserve $20,000 Cache

WICHITA, KAN.—Police investigating the plight of a woman who had eked out a meager livelihood by laundering the clothing of other residents of a third-rate hotel found some $20,000 among her belongings.

The hotel manager had appealed for aid for his guest, reporting that she apparently had barely enough to eat.

The woman, Mrs. Joyce Leed, told police "I've been living this way because I'm afraid I would be killed if some people knew I had this much money and bonds."

Bank's Burglar Alarm Cries Wolf Too Often; Police Moan

HOLLISTER, CALIF. — The burglar alarm at the local Bank of America branch has gone off so many times lately — because of short circuits — that Hollister's police mention it in the same breath with the old "cry wolf" fable.

Lest any itinerant safe-blowers get the wrong idea, Chief of Police Roy McPhail has told his policemen publicly that they're still to head for the bank on the double when the alarm sounds, even if it's just to call bank officials to "turn the thing off."

Food Prices Are Sure to Remain High Is Verdict

"No food price collapse is likely . . .so long as wages and employment remain near present high levels," says a Wall Street Journal commodity letter. "The factory worker's weekly pay is now double prewar. And some 15 million more people have paying jobs than before the shooting started."

These are not the only factors contributing to high prices ,but they are among the most important. The cost of food, much as we rail about it, is just a logical reflection of the economics of the day. It is true that agriculture's gross income has multiplied—but the cost of everything the farmer must buy, from labor to feed, has followed suit, and there is no get rich quick profit left when all the bills are paid.

The people who handle the food after it leaves the farm—manufacturers, canners, processors, packers, etc.—have no means of reducing the price. Like all mass production industry, they operate on an extremely small profit margin. And they too must meet going wage and other costs.

Finally, the retail grocer who sells you your food is in exactly the same position. A number of chain food systems have issued graphic statements of what happens to each dollar spent in their stores. The profit remaining, after the bills are met, runs to about 1½ cents per dollar of sales. In other words, if the retailer made no profit at all, it wouldn't make a visible dent in your food budget.

You are getting your food for the lowest price possible under the circumstances. That is always true in a competitive economy—the only kind of an economy able to combine peak efficiency with peak abundance.

Liquor Consumption Reported Low, But Numerous Beer Cans

Consumption of hard liquor is reported to have hit a low mark over the nation.

But a drive around Canyon, and along the highways indicate a large number of empty beer cans, which didn't get there by themselves. Not so many empty bottles are seen, probably because of the use of tin cans.

Individual Has Rights Above Capital, Labor

Cecil B. DeMille, whose Foundation for Political Freedom has been conducting an aggressive campaign for the right of men to work without fear of either management or union dictation, recently gave some important testimony before the House Committee on Education and Labor.

"My concern is for the individual," he said. "Through the Wagner Act, the Taft-Hartley Act, and other legislation, Congress has given the individual some measure of protection from his management bosses and union bosses.

"But bosses never take kindly to restraint.

"You have heard reactionary businessmen urging the total repeal of the Wagner Act. Now you are hearing the clamor of reactionary union leaders for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"Reaction—from whatever side—always aims to enslave. . . .

"Every American should have the right to work when he pleases, where he pleases, for himself or for whoever wants to hire him, and the full protection of the government should be put behind this right to

That is not an anti labor argu-
ment. It is, to the contrary, a pro-labor argument. It makes little difference whether a business or a union can decide whether a man shall be allowed to earn his living or not. If they have that power, he is as helpless as a slave worker under a dictator. Communists and their fellow travelers are making an all-out effort to control our unions—and thereby control the economic life of America.

The Taft-Hartley Act made one major advance for labors' rights when it abolished the closed shop. But the union shop, under which a worker must join and pay tribute to the organization within a specified time after going ot work, has not been touched. So the union officials still have a sure thing, a tight monopoly. Whether or not the worker likes their service, whether or not he approves of union policy, he must pay or quit. And if he does quit, it's extremely doubtful if he can find another job where he will be allowed to work at his trade. So far as the union is concerned, he can starve.

To quote Mr. DeMille once more, "The touchstone for any law—or any government, anywhere in the world—is the question: How does individual freedom fare?" It will never fare well so long as any organization, of any kind, can tell any man whether he can work or not.

The billion-dollar club of U. S. business—firms with assets of that amount or more—has three new members: Texas Co., Mellon National Bank and Trust Co., and the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. Bell System heads the list with $8,772,000,000. Runners-up: Metropolitan Life, Prudential, Bank of America and National City Bank.

New cars are in greater demand now than at any time since the war. General Motors' Vice President M. E. Coyle explains it this way: Underproduction, mainly because of steel stoppages, has added a 2-million car demand to the shortage that had accumulated by VE-Day.

A turnabout in lumber prices which dropped last winter may send them to a new all-time peak this summer. Orders heavier than last year's and strikes by boom men—log sorters—of the Pacific Northwest have held supplies far below demand.

$24 million for 16 new buildings and improvements in 87 others will be spent by F. W. Woolworth this year. Sales so far in '48 are $12 million over the same period last year.

Coke Stevenson Says U. S. Need Not Live in Fear

"We do not have to be afraid."

That was the message brought to Texans by Coke Stevenson, candidate for the United States Senate, in an address in Tyler Monday night.

"Men and women who love freedom must be vigilant always," the wartime Governor of Texas declared. "We can be vigilant, however, without being frightened. There are men in this nation today who go about over the country as apostles of fear. We must, they tell us, be afraid.

"I don't say we don't have to be afraid. We are descendants of men and women who have fought and won both the battles of war and the battles of peace. We have here in Texas, happily returned from war and wanting no more of it, tens of thousands of brave and gallant young men who have shown they do not know the meaning of fear.

"We are a God-fearing nation. We do not have to be afraid."

Stevenson, who is spending the entire week campaigning in East Texas, outlined some of the governmental principles which he said would guide his actions as Senator. He urged "cash-basis thinking and cash-basis action in Washington," declared against efforts "to move our county courthouses to Washington, D.C.," and labeled the so-called civil rights program as an anti-States rights program.

"As your Senator," he said, "I shall fight every day to help destroy the Communist movement in this country. I shall fight all other enemies of the American democratic ideal."

Stevenson has campaigned in 167 counties since Jan. 1, and said he would visit all remaining Texas counties before the primary election on July 24.

A business slowdown, in evidence during the first quarter, has halted with prices edging up and a slower rate of decline in inventories. Indications of a turn for the better are causing many purchasing agents to buy 60-90 days ahead instead of 30 days.

No collapse of farm prices is anticipated in the foreseeable future. Federal Reserve officials think they will: (1) decline moderately in the next several weeks; (2) then be bolstered by high national income and employment, in spite of the decline in farm exports.

Health Program Blocked Because Wide Opposition

In all probability, no action will be taken on compulsory health insurance by this Congress. And the reasons for that are plain.

First of all, the polls show that the American people are strongly against schemes which would make the doctor subservient to the politician—and, incidentally, cost the workers and employers of the country another $4,00,000,000-plus a year.

Secondly, the factual testimony in opposition to the plan has been extremely impressive. It has been shown that American health standards are far better than those prevailing in most other countries, even overlooking the effects of the war.

Third, it has also been shown that the arguments offered in behalf of compulsory health insurance are full of fallacies and misinterpretations. Good medical care—for those who want it—is far more abundant, far more easily obtainable, than these arguments ever admit.

Fourth, the growth of voluntary prepayment plans, which give workers and their families medical care and hospitalization at a low cost, has been nothing short of amazing. The largest of these plans has something like 30,000,000 members. Thus, for a great percentage of our people the problem of paying for care has been solved.

Last, and most important, the experience in other countries is that political domination of medicine is nearly as bad as complete socialization. In both cases, the quality of service nose-dives. Then the people really have a health problem.

Then the next day he sold it to a native New Yorker for a nice profit!

Meat Packers Show a Small Profit on Sales

Human nature being what it is, most of us kick at the price of our pork chops and T-bones. However, we shouldn't aim our resentment at the people who run the complicated machine that turns steers, hogs and lambs into meat.

The world's largest food manufacturers are the meat packers of America. And the American Meat Institute recently issued some interesting figures on what happened to the average dollar received by the packing industry in 1947.

Nearly eighty cents of it, first of all, went to farmers and livestock producers. This means that the money was pumped into every corner of the country and was a very big factor in promoting agricultural prosperity. Payrolls took 9.4 cents. Supplies, transportation and miscellaneous charges accounted for 8.2 cents. The government, through taxes, got its palm crossed with silver to the tune of 1.4 cents. After paying all expenses, the meat packers had a net profit averaging 1.5 cents out of each dollar on sales—a profit so small as to not affect appreciably the price of meat to the public. That 1947 profit, incidentally, was close to a cent less per dollar on sales than in 1946.

Meat is a staple in the American diet, even as it is the source of the farmer's cash income. And the remarkable efficiency with which the packers operate is largely responsible for that. Nothing is wasted—hides, horns, hooves, bones and hair and everything else is put to some use in the manufacture of by-products, running the amazing gamut from fertilizer to insulin! Thus meat can be offered to us at the lowest possible price.

Jeoffroy

MAKES EVERY DROP PAY

Moisture means money in farming ... that is, if the moisture is in the right place at the right time! Jeoffroy is the plow that breaks up the soil so that every drop of moisture goes down deep into the subsoil for future plant use. The illustrations below show how Jeoffroy makes the soil drink deep ... how every drop of moisture will pay in profitable crops!

THIS IS THE WAY THE JEOFFROY PLOWS...

...AND PAYS!

At a width of every foot, the chisels of the Jeoffroy bite through the tough, hard layer just under the top-soil and open the way for the moisture to go into the subsoil for storage. This method of Jeoffroy plowing kills the vegetation on top. The vegetation then shades the land and contributes additional fertility to the soil.

JEOFFROY FEATURES:

Electrically welded frame. Frame is special, heavy-built 4" N beam. Heavy-duty shanks. Strong, sturdy wheels and axles. Wheels mount on rims.
